The Portrait Staff takes pleasure in presenting the Portrait for the year 1958-1959.

The theme this year is atomic power. Atomic power is the present trend and will help our nation prosper in the future. We seniors feel that atomic power is very similar to the education we have received during our school career. This education will help us prosper in our future years in the modern world.

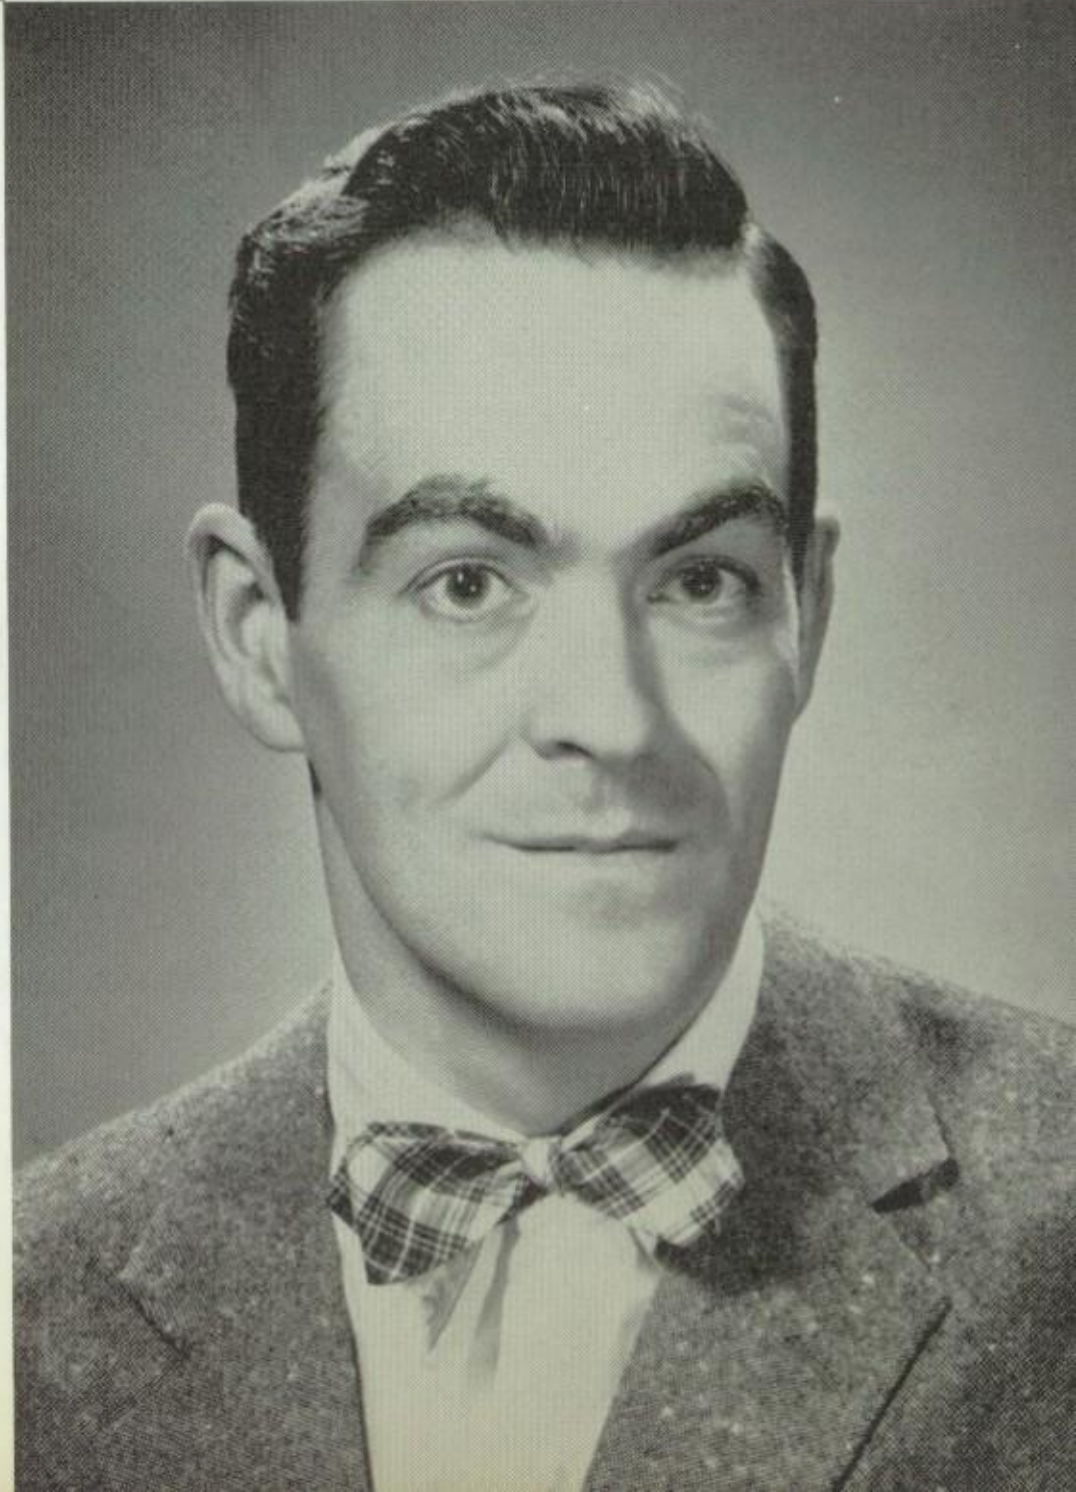

MR. HARRY H. HOAG

We, the class of 1959, are proud to dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Harry H. Hoag, head custodian at Fort Plain Central School. He has helped make our many school activities successful. We shall always remember his efforts in making our prom the success that it was. Whenever we have needed help, he has always been willing to assist us, even if it meant delaying a job of his own. We shall never forget him or his efforts, which have so generously contributed to our class and to the school.

To our class
advisors,
MRS. MARY FAILING
and
MR. EVERETT ROWE

We, the class of '59, wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our class advisors, Mrs. Mary Failing and Mr. Everett Rowe. You have helped us accomplish a great deal during our four years in high school and we will always be grateful for your kind and understanding ways.

When the Class of 1959 entered seventh grade, it immediately launched its activities by selling pencils. Through the years of junior high and high school it continued to work in earnest for the final goal - the senior trip. However, in 1958 senior trips were discontinued. The present class now finds itself in an unusual situation - a senior class that does not know what to do with its money.
